

CURRICULUM VITAE

TAMURA Toshihiro

University of Shizuoka

Associate Professor, School of International Relations

Email: tamuratoshi@u-shizuoka-ken.ac.jp

Address: 52-1 Yada, Suruga Ward Shizuoka City, Shizuoka Prefecture 422-8526, Japan

Education

2007 Ph.D., University of Tsukuba, Linguistics

2003 M.A., University of Shizuoka, Comparative Culture

2001 B.A., Shizuoka University, Language and Culture

Membership

The Japanese Cognitive Linguistics Association

The English Linguistic Society of Japan

The Central Japan Society of Linguistics

The Association for Studies of Picture Books

Journal Articles

Tamura, T. (2021) “te-shimau” ni yoru hanashite no kanjyo wa donoyouni kaishaku sareru no ka: Kanrensei riron no kanten kara [How is the feelings in te-shimau interpreted?: From the perspective of Relevance Theory], Shizugen Ronso, Vol. 4, 33-56.

Tamura, T. (2020) Yooji no “katari” ni okeru teineitai no shiyo to ehon no buntai [The use of the Japanese polite style in a child’s narrative and the writing style of Picture Books], Nakayama Hidetoshi and Otani Naoki (eds.), Ninchi Gengogaku to Danwakino Gengogaku no Setten [Toward Dynamic Interaction between Cognitive Linguistics and Discourse-functional Linguistics], 355-379, Tokyo: Hituzi shobo.

Tamura, T. (2020) Washa no kanjyo hyoshutsu ni tsuite: Get jjudobun to “te shimau” wo rei ni [On the speaker’s expression of feelings: The case of Get-passives and te-shimau], Ninchi Gengogaku Kenkyu [Journal of Cognitive Linguistics], 69-86.

Tamura, T. (2016) Get jjudobun no imi to kino [The function and meaning of Get-passives], Ars Linguistica, 23, 71-84.

Tamura, T. (2015) Hojyo doshi “te-shimau” ni okeru “fukagyakusei” no imi kiban [The semantic motivation of the irreversibility in the subsidiary verb “te-shimau”], Fukada C., Nishida K. and Tamura T. (eds.), Gengo Kenkyu no Shiza [Perspectives in Language Studies], Tokyo: Kaitakusha.

Tamura, T. (2015) Hojyo doshi “(te)shimau” to kantanshi “shimatta”no imi bunseki to kakucho

- mekanizumu no kosatsu [Semantic analysis and investigation of the extension mechanism on the subsidiary verb “(te)shimau” and the interjection “shimatta”], Masaaki Yamanashi (ed.) Ninchi Gengogaku Ronko [Studies in Cognitive Linguistics], 12, 337-378, Tokyo: Hituzi shobo.
- Tamura, T. (2013) Ehon ni okeru “katari” no sutairu shifuto: Shiza no ido to hairikomi [Style shifts in narrative of picture books: Perspective shift and immersion], Ars Linguistica, 20, 40-61.
- Tamura, T. (2013) Gengo no asupectoteki seishitsu wo kiban to shita washa no kanjyo hyoshutsu [On speaker’s expression of feelings motivated by the linguistic aspectual properties: The case of the subsidiary verb te-shimau in Japanese and Get-passives in English], Shizuoka-daigaku Kyoiku Kenkyu [Journal of Shizuoka University Education], 9, 1-10.
- Tamura, T. (2011) Hojyo doshi “te-shimau” kara kandoshi “shimatta” e: shiyo kiban moderu no tachiba kara [From the subsidiary verb “te-shimau” to the interjection “shimatta”: From the view point of Usage-Based Model], Ars linguistica, 18, 80-94.
- Tamura, T. (2009) Gendai nihongo no setsubiji “mi” ni kansuru ichikosatsu [A study of the suffix “mi” in modern Japanese], Ars Linguistica, 16, 56-71.
- Tamura, T. (2008) Get-Passives, Tsukuba English Studies, 27, 133-144.
- Tamura, T. (2008) Get jjudobun no modality-teki imi nitsuite [On the modal meaning of Get-passives], Eigo goho bunpo kenkyu [Journal of English Grammar and Usage], 15, 82-92.
- Tamura, T. (2008) Get jjudobun to V te-shimau no imiteki ruijisei to modality teki imi nitsuite [On the semantic similarity between Get-Passives and V te-shimau, and their modal meanings], JELS, 25, 245-254.
- Tamura, T. (2007) A Note on the Modal Meaning of V-te shimau, Tsukuba English Studies, 26, 11-34.
- Tamura, T. (2005) Syoyu wo arawasu have got keishiki no seiritsu ni kansuru imironteki kosatsu: dosasyusei no jyakka to imi scope no syukusyo [Semantic consideration on the establishment of the possessive have got], Ars Linguistica, 12, 69-88.